

Amanda Gonzalez CPLP, M.Ed.

RESUME:

- o 10 years instructional design and project management experience
- o Specialties: Performance-based instructional design, e-learning, project management, needs assessment
- o Designed various workshop-based instructor-led programs and interactive e-learning courseware for Vanguard
- o Designed and facilitated technical training for Department of Defense accounting facilities around the world
- o Designed training programs for a wide range of audiences (entry level through upper management)
- o Certified Professional in Learning and Performance (ASTD CPLP)
- o Active member of GVISPI and ASTD
- o M.Ed., Penn State University
- o B.A., Spanish/International Studies, Susquehanna University

effectPerformance

Instructional design solutions for your learning and performance needs

BIO:

Amanda Gonzalez is an instructional design consultant with 10 years experience designing Six Sigma, technical, and leadership training.

Amanda holds a M.Ed. in Instructional Systems and is a Certified Professional in Learning and Performance (ASTD.) She is also certified as a Six Sigma green belt.

She has extensive experience and uses this knowledge to create results -driven training programs. Her experience includes developing interactive instructor-led workshops, engaging E-learning, case studies, simulations, self-study programs and coaching.

ROLES:

- o Instructional Design Consultant
- o Project Manager
- o Performance Improvement Consultant
- o Instructional Developer
- o Facilitator